

DOUBLE TRACK ST. PAUL ROAD

Mr. Earling Announce Improvements That Will Cost $5,000,000.

LACROSSE DIVISION

Work Will Begin as Soon as the Frost is Out of the Ground.

WILL REDUCE GRADES

Improvements have been planned by the management of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road for the coming year which will cost between $5,000,000 and $8,000,000. The most important which was announced by President Earling yesterday is the double tracking of the La Crosse division, which extends from Milwaukee to La Crosse, a distance of 197 miles. Work will be begun upon this as soon as ground can be broken in the spring and will be finished inside of two years.

The cost of this betterment is not announced definitely, but it can be little if any under $5,000,000. Upon completion of this second track the St. Paul's Chicago-St. Paul line will be double tracked between Chicago and La Crosse, a distance of 282 miles.

Other betterments determined upon are curve and grade reductions on various portions of the system where the freight traffic is the heaviest, relaying with new and heavier rails many miles of the road, and the construction of between fifteen and twenty new steel bridges.

The bridge work alone for the year 1902 will cost close to $1,000,000. Eight of the new bridges are to be constructed along the Kansas City cut-off. The largest work of the kind for the year is a new bridge over the Mississippi at La Crosse. This will practically be three bridges in one, with a total length of more than 3,000 feet. Bids for a great deal of the bridge work have already been sought.

The rebuilding of the St. Paul-Chicago line has been going on for about two years and several million dollars has been spent on the work. The line between here and Milwaukee has been placed in as perfect a condition as possible and bridges and track are now able to withstand successfully the shock of the heavy engines and trains drawn at top speed.

Over the entire line between here and St. Paul a great deal of grade reduction and elimination of curves has been accomplished and where-over there has been a change in the direction of the line it has been made with a view to a second track. In time the St. Paul will have a double track all the way between Chicago and St. Paul, where it is greatly needed on account of the big through traffic and the enormous local traffic.

MARISIGAN SURRENDERS.

He and 160 of Malvar's Supporters Quit Fighting.

Manila, Jan. 11.—Colonel Marisigan and a renegade priest, who were General Malvar's principal supporters in Iloilo province, have surrendered to General Bell. The latter has granted an armistice of five days to allow Colonel Marisigan to concentrate 160 men with rifles for the purpose of surrendering. The authorities consider Colonel Marisigan's surrender as an important step toward pacification. He rose from the ranks and has strong influence with the natives.

SCHWAB AT MONTE CARLO.

Said to Be Wasting Time Only Wins $20,000 a Day.

Monte Carlo, Jan. 11.—Charles M. Schwab is here and is the lion of the day. His play at the Casino has eclipsed that of the Earl of Roslyn and his famous system. Mr. Schwab's table is constantly surrounded by a crowd watching the steel millionaire gamble. He has had extraordinary luck and has repeatedly staked the maximum. What Mr. Schwab's luck is like can be gathered from the fact that the croupier pushed him $20,000 as his winnings of one day's play.

German Taunts Anger England.

London, Jan. 11.—The anger of the English people is rising rapidly with the repeated attacks on the British army made in public debate in the German Reichstag. The Times this morning, after declaring that seldom, if ever, has a friendly nation been so grossly insulted, warns the Kaiser that the limit of British patience will be overstepped if Chancellor von Bulow continues to wipe his feet on the king's uniform.

Will Teach Filipinos.

Evansville, Wis., Jan. 10.—Miss Alice L. Olds of Clinton, Wis., who has been teaching in the high school in this city for three months, left for San Francisco last night. She will sail for the Philippines about Feb. 1, where she has been engaged as teacher.

The Reichstag.

The Reichstag is composed of 397 members, about one for every 132,000 inhabitants, who are elected by universal suffrage for a term of five years.

MR. PAYNE TALKS AT THE PRESS CLUB

New Postmaster General Speaks to Milwaukee Newspaper Men at Farewell Reception.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 11.—The Milwaukee Press Club last night gave a reception for Postmaster General Henry C. Payne. It was largely attended, and Mr. Payne made a speech.

"I feel that I would not have been invited here if I did not enjoy the respect of the newspaper men," he said, "and I am particularly gratified to have your respect. It gives me confidence that I am not so much of a fraud as some have called me, for if anybody is able to forget out a fraud it should be the newspaper men. So I say I am glad that I have this proof that I am not a fraud."

Mr. and Mrs. Payne left for Washington today.

HOUSE PROGRAM FOR NEXT WEEK

Consideration of the Pacific Cable Question Resumed Before a Committee This Morning.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The house program for next week is of rather an uncertain character. The pension appropriation, urgent deficiency and permanent census bureau bill will probably be taken up. No program is arranged for the senate and it is expected that the short daily sessions will be followed by executive sessions for the consideration of nominations sent in by the president.

The consideration of the Pacific Cable question was resumed by the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce today. John Ford represented the Asiatic-American business organizations, whose members, it is claimed, send three fourths of all the cable messages between this country and the Orient, addressed to the committee in opposition to all the pending bills looking to the construction and advocated the claims of the Commercial Cable company.

PLAN TO MEET IN CITY OF JERUSALEM

Members of Committee Want to Hold Next World's Sunday School Convention in Palestine.

Three Oaks, Mich., Jan. 11.—The next world's Sunday school convention probably will be held in Jerusalem. At the meeting of the Committee on Program and Arrangements for the tenth international school convention to be held in Denver, Colo., June 26-July 1, 1902, the question of time and place of the world's fourth Sunday school convention was considered, and a committee was appointed to correspond with the foreign section of the world's committee in reference to holding the fourth convention in Jerusalem in March, 1904.

BOGUS LORD BEHIND BARS.

Sidney Lascelles, Alias Hereward, in Boston Jail.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 11.—Sidney Lascelles, otherwise known as "Lord" Hereward, was arrested at one of the prominent downtown hotels last night and locked up in the city prison. He is wanted on the charge of passing a worthless check on Lyman T. Hay, proprietor of the Arlington hotel, Hot Springs, Ark., and obtaining $1,200. Lascelles was born on the estates of the Duke of Devonshire, where his father was a gamekeeper and his mother, prior to her marriage, a beautiful girl. Before he was 17 years old he had ridden to the hounds as an attendant, acquired an acquaintanceship with the manners of nobility and had taken some $85,000 from the strong box of his master. Then he fled to Algiers, where requisition papers received no recognition. He posed as the son of the house of Beresford and claimed the right to call both Lord Charles and Lord Marcus of that name "uncle."

One day he met Miss Maud Lillenthal, an American heiress to $1,000,000, who came from Yonkers, N. Y. Although a mere youngster he was an adept at winning his way into the graces of the opposite sex and one day the American colony was surprised to learn that Miss Lillenthal had eloped to Cairo with the "Lord." His subsequent career would fill a novel.

Suicide by Dynamite.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 11.—The trunk of an unidentified man was found in one of the residence districts, the evidence tending to show that he had committed suicide by placing a stick of dynamite in his mouth with a fuse attached. He then had laid down on the ground, lighted the fuse, and awaited the end. A hole fifteen inches deep marked the place where his head had rested. Not a vestige of the head could be found. There is no clue to the suicide's identity.

An Irish Bull.

An excellent bull was perpetrated in the House of Commons at 1:30 one morning. Mr. O'Donnell was the author. He rose suddenly to his feet and cut into the debate with "At this late hour of the morning, Mr. Speaker—" "Early hour, you mean," from the government benches. "Well, Mr. Speaker," he continued, "at this early hour of the following day—" Household Words.

LEXINGTON MAY BAR "UNCLE TOM"

Stage Picture of Slave Life Declared Extreme and Unjust.

WOMEN PROTEST

Daughters of the Confederacy Urge Opera House Manager Not to Book Piece.

EFFECT ON CHILDREN

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 11.—The play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," will be seen no more in Lexington if the plea made today by the local chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy is complied with.

Claiming that the incidents of the play are picturing an extreme phase of slave life before the civil war and will give the descendants of former slave owners and of former slaves a wrong impression of their forefathers, an appeal is made to the manager of the opera house to cease booking the performance.

Former Slave Owners Annoyed.

It is argued that the majority of the old families here were slave owners, not from choice, but through inheritance and that their relations with the negroes were as a rule friendly and not as shown in the dramatization of Mrs. Stowe's story.

The old negro in chains; the cruel master, whip in hand; the bloodhounds; the woman fleeing by night, with dogs in pursuit, and practically all the incidents of the play, the Daughters of the Confederacy say, are not typical of slave life as it was in the south and gives the growing generation a wrong idea of history and a disrespect for their forefathers that is not warranted.

Appeal to Theater Manager.

It is expected that the anti-"Uncle Tom" crusade will be taken up in other southern cities. The local petition is as follows:

"Mr. Charles Scott, Manager of the Lexington Opera House—My Dear Sir: At the regular meeting of the Lexington chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy a motion was passed requesting you to make no future engagements to bring the play, 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' to Lexington."

"We did this with no desire to dictate to you or to interfere with your business—we merely wished to present to you some reasons why this play is injurious to our community and we trust you will see the justice of our plea."

"We ask this because we believe the play and the motive on which it was founded present a picture of the slave in the south that is essentially false—false because it presents what was rare and exceptional as normal and typical."

FEAR THE ENTIRE MISSION IS DEAD

Eighteen Belgians Believed to Have Been Massacred by Order of Tung Fu Hsiang.

Peking, Jan. 11.—The signing of the edict ordering the execution of Tung Fu Hsiang is taken to indicate that he is responsible for the recent outrages in the Province of Kansu. The French minister fears that the entire Belgian mission at Ninghsia, numbering about eighteen persons with many converts, has been massacred.

The Dowager Empress of China asserted her complete supremacy today by granting an audience in the most sacred hall in the Forbidden City. The emperor will receive the foreign diplomats in this hall. Officials believe the Dowager Empress to be paying the way to be present upon this occasion in order to prevent any communications between the diplomats and the Emperor, except under her censorship.

REVOLUTION IN PARAGUAY.

Senator Infran Killed, Three Wounded—President Aecval Resigns.

Buenos Ayres, Jan. 11.—Rumors circulated here of a revolution in the republic of Paraguay turn out to be well founded. The revolt, which broke out at Asuncion, the capital, was caused by the question of the presidential succession, the term of President Aecval expiring in November of this year. The revolutionary junta was composed of Gen. Caballero, Gen. Escobar, Col. J. A. Escurrea, the minister of war; Senor Marco, a cabinet minister, and Senator Freitas. President Aecval resigned the presidency and congress accepted his resignation. A collision occurred in the chamber of deputies during which Senator Francisco Infran, president of the hygienic council, was killed, and Gen. Caballero, Senators Miguel and Corbalan, and Deputy Fernando Carreras were severely wounded. The congress of Paraguay has placed the reins of government in the hands of the vice-president, Senor Hector Carvallo. Great excitement prevails at Asuncion.

M. D. Owen of Footville, was a visitor in this city yesterday.

DEMANDS MADE UPON CHINESE

French Minister to Peking Refuses to Present His Papers.

EMPRESS IS HEARD

Thanks the Foreign Diplomats for Royal Reception Given Her.

SURPRISE TO CAMBODIA

Peking, Jan. 11.—The French minister, M. Beau, refuses to present his credentials until China fulfills certain demands of the French government. The joint audience of the foreign and new Chinese ministers, which had been arranged, has been postponed because of M. Beau's action. His colleagues are discussing whether to support him or not. A repetition of the Turkish incident is considered possible.

More Friendly Advances.

The dowager empress to-day followed up her friendly advances by verbal messages to several of the ministers, thanking them for the care they had taken of the palaces and expressing pleasure at the reception accorded her by the foreigners on the occasion of their majesties' re-entry into Peking. The report of the arrest of General Tung-Fu-Hsiang, whose decapitation has been ordered by the dowager empress, is incorrect. The Tartar general who is governor of Kansu was afraid to execute the orders he received, owing to Tung-Fu-Hsiang's influence among the Mohammedans, who dominate the province. The governor feared that the arrest of Tung-Fu-Hsiang would incite the Mohammedans to rebellion.

Surprise to Cambodians.

Washington, Jan. 12.—When shown the dispatch from Peking, stating that the presentation of certain demands by the French minister has caused a serious hitch in the proceedings there, M. Cambon, the French ambassador at Washington, expressed great surprise, saying that he was not aware of any claims preferred against the Chinese government by the French republic which would be likely to cause an interruption of affairs at Peking. The ambassador has not received any advice on this subject, and therefore, was not prepared to give a speculative interpretation of the dispatch. It was suggested that France does hold some claims against China, but it was gathered that these were not regarded here as of sufficient importance to bring about the state of affairs set out in the press dispatches. At the state department it was suggested that the trouble may have arisen from a question of precedence or procedure in the coming presentation of the foreign ministers.

PRESIDENT HILL DEFENDS MERGER

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 11.—President James J. Hill of the Northern Securities company and of the Great Northern railway, yesterday afternoon addressed the Tri-State Association of Grain and Cattle Growers. In the course of his address President Hill warmly defended the merger of the Great Northern, Burlington, and Northern Pacific systems. He made the point that if the Burlington system was not in existence the Great Northern had provided the funds to build there would be no objection from the people of the Northwest.

President Hill contended that the existing railroads are unable to handle the enormous growth of traffic. The volume of traffic west of Chicago he said is so great that the railroads are not able to move it, and said that new railroads would have to be built and new facilities furnished.

The convention, before Mr. Hill's arrival passed resolutions commending him for his development of the Northwest.

"LONG" JONES SAYS HE'S GOT ENOUGH

The Waukesha State Senator and Republican Leader Will Retire from Politics.

Milwaukee, Jan. 11.—"Long" Jones, maker of two United States senators and equally famous in Illinois and Wisconsin for his political acumen, is out of politics. He preached his own obituary sermon in this line when he came here yesterday to attend the funeral of his old friend George N. Wiswell, a familiar figure at Republican national conventions. His sermon consisted of just four words:

"I have had enough."

This pithy declaration is characteristic of the man who, before he gained the appreciation due to his elongated stature, was known through out Illinois as "Old Business." Coupled with these words was the announcement of his decision not to seek re-election as state senator from the Waukesha district.

INDIANS ARMING; TROOPS ON WAY

General Otis Sends Orders—Murder of Twelve Soldiers Alone Among the Cheyennes Is Feared.

Fortyfour, Mont., Jan. 11.—Alarming developments are reported from Lame Deer agency where the Cheyenne Indians are all arming for desperate resistance. War dances are in progress and the excitement is intense.

Upon receipt of orders from General Otis fifty men of troop F under command of Lieutenant Roeyn, left Fort Keogh at 9 o'clock this morning and are expected to reach the agency tomorrow morning. It is felt that more troops will be needed. The region to be traversed presents great difficulty, consisting largely of a long expanse of bad lands.

Twelve enlisted men are at the reservation. Advice from the Indian agent show that they are in danger of immediate attack, and it is feared that all will be murdered.

The Cheyennes are able to carry on prolonged hostilities, the surrounding country being specially well adapted to their peculiar method of waging war. The Indian agent believes that the Indians will be able to hold a far superior force of soldiers at bay for a long time.

The trouble is due to the attempted arrest of an Indian called White. He resisted a posse sent out to catch him and shot one Indian policeman. Then he committed suicide, and his squaw and daughter, out of respect to the dead brave, also killed themselves.

PREDICT A FAMINE FOR GOOD HORSES

The Prices on Desirable Animals Have Been Rising Steadily—Coach Horses Scarce.

The Janesville dealers predict that there will be a horse famine in a short time in the Northwest. In fact, they say that there is already a scarcity of good horses. The prices on desirable animals have been rising steadily and there is no indication that the limit has been reached.

One dealer stated yesterday that the trouble began a few years ago, when horses were abnormally cheap. The farmer at that time could buy a good horse for much less than it cost him to raise a calf. The result was that the farmer bought his horses instead of raising them, and there is now very little good breeding stock on the farms. The dealer estimates that it will take six years to get the market back to the conditions prior to 1894.

Coach horses are at present exceptionally scarce, and those of good grade frequently sell for as much as $400. The ordinary farm horse which a few years ago was worth from $40 to $60, is now sold readily at $125. Good draft horses are in demand at $200 and more.

There is a great shortage in the supply of horses suitable for use in the fire department. A good fire horse must be a combination coach and draft horse. He must have speed and weight enough to haul a load. Fire horses, such as sold for $125 two or three years ago, are now worth $225, and dealers believe that the price will go to $300 before the year is out.

MADISON HAS A CURFEW LAW

Streets Forbidden to Children After 8 O'Clock in Winter

Madison, Wis., Jan. 11.—Madison has a curfew law. The common council last evening passed an ordinance requiring children to be off the street by eight o'clock in the evening in winter and 9 o'clock in summer. The vote of the aldermen was 4 to 0, and Mayor Bull cast his deciding vote in favor of the ordinance.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

Springfield, Ky., Jan. 11.—Jim Mayes, the negro accused of attempting to assault a white girl, was taken from jail this morning and hanged.

H., Jan. 11.—Anne Beaudry, aged 25, entered on Amoskeag factory here this morning and shot and probably fatally wounded Jennie Gagnon, aged 24, and then killed herself. Jealously over the affections of a young man was the motive.

ALEXANDER HAS REFUSED TO RUN

Decides That He Cannot Become a gubernatorial Candidate.

GIVES HIS REASON

No Harmony Possible as Long as La Follette Is at Head of Affairs.

SORT OF MAN NEEDED

Milwaukee, Jan. 11.—Walter Alexander of Wausau, whose name has been so frequently used in connection with the republican nomination as the man who might be selected by the stalwart republicans to contest the nomination with Governor La Follette in the convention, was in the city yesterday. He was on his way to Chicago and stopped during part of the day in order to be present at the funeral services of George N. Wiswell.

"For the first time in my life," said Mr. Alexander, "I have hesitated somewhat in publicly defining my position. It is the first time too that any political matter has had a direct personal influence upon me. Heretofore my political services have always been commanded in the interest of the party, and I never have been placed in an attitude where my name has been before the people as a probable candidate for office."

Business Interests Paramount.
"I am a business man and only meddle with politics from the standpoint of a business man, believing that the republican party best serves the interests of all classes. My business interests have been paramount to me and the men associated with me. The stimulus afforded by present prosperous business conditions has caused such an expansion and extension in our business that whatever my personal inclinations might be in connection with becoming a candidate for the republican nomination for governor, I find after due consideration, that it is utterly impossible."

Positively No Candidate.
"I do not believe that my friends, if they understood the extent of my business interests, would call upon me to make so large a sacrifice of my time as would be required and expected of me if I became a candidate for governor."

"The mention of my name in this connection was entirely unauthorized by me. At no time have I approved of it. At home I have repeatedly stated that I would not be a candidate, and gave my reasons for the statement. In making this announcement, at this time, I do so in order to give additional publicity to my determination."

"As a republican, while deploring the condition of affairs as regards the factional troubles of the party in this state, it appears to me that there is only one course which will safeguard the interests of the party. The dissatisfaction and discontent in that party is widespread, and apparently can be traced to Governor La Follette's conduct and management of affairs."

La Follette Must Go.
"Without assuming to enter into a detailed discussion, or even attempting to analyze the situation, the fact of party danger is apparent. The consensus of opinion among member of the legislature as well as many of the leading republicans of the state appears to be that there is a possibility of restoring harmony in the party ranks, and thereby obtaining the best possible results to the people and party, as long as Governor La Follette stands at the head of party affairs in this state."

"His factional attitude, it seems to me, prevents this. In my opinion the interests of the state and party are of so much greater importance than can be the political advancement of any individual, that the selection of some man whose candidacy would reasonably satisfy the republicans of this state, would be a true solution of the present difficulty."

Ohio Bank Suspends.

Painesville, O., Jan. 11.—The Peoples Bank made a general assignment this morning. The action, was brought about by the suspension of the Euclid Avenue bank, Cleveland, which, it is understood, was its chief correspondent. It is not believed the bank will be badly crippled.

Paris, Jan. 11.—A decrease in the revenue returns is again shown by the figures of the last three months, which are 8,271,844 francs below the estimates and 20,105,000 francs below the returns for the same period of 1900. The total deficit for 1901, compared with the estimates, is 111,000,000 francs.

Turkey Is Fortifying Tripoli.

SOCIAL EVENTS STILL NUMEROUS

Large Dancing Party Scheduled to Follow Easter—Liverymen Reaped a Harvest This Year.

Present indications are that there will be no let up to the gay social season in Janesville till the coming of Lent. Several dancing parties are scheduled to take place in the near future. Following Easter a dancing function of importance will be given at Assembly hall by two well known families whose homes are on Quality Hill. As the result of the numerous dancing parties held this winter the local liverymen have reaped a golden harvest in the renting of carriages. The sum expended in this one instance amounts to several hundred dollars.

Surprise For Wilder.

There is a good deal of fun going on among the boys over the discomfort of that eminent half-breed, Dr. Amos P. Wilder, and the way in which he set a trap for himself by putting the subject of taxation on the programme for the meeting of the Six O'clock club at Madison and inviting Senator John M. Whitehead to make the leading address. The stalwarts had been waiting for some time for an opportunity for Whitehead to utter his sentiments on the subject in public, and were overjoyed when he received the invitation. What added to their amusement was the fact that although their faction captured the meeting, Dr. Wilder was not aware of the fact until the speeches were all over and general conversation had begun. Then it began to dawn on him what he had done, and Madisonians say the expression of hopeless misery and disgust that crept athwart his countenance was worthy of the brush of some skilled painter who represents dumb creatures caught in traps. What added to his disgust was the fact that he is the head and front of the club, and will have to bear the brunt of the wrath of both the governor and his private secretary for exploding a bomb of that kind in their front yard.

It is quite evident that Dr. Wilder is not much of a politician, and has only acquired enough knowledge of the game to put his foot in it. E. R. PETHERICK. Milwaukee Journal.

FIGURES EXPENSE OF THE CHURCHES

It Costs About $2,500 Per Year to Run the Average Janesville Church.

About the first question that a careful financier investigates before starting out on a business venture, is the cost, and whether the outlay of money warrants a safe return.

While the church is not a business enterprise, it costs money to support it and people have been known to stay away from the place of worship because they did not feel financially able to contribute, and because they did not want to be considered dead heads on the gospel wagon.

The various churches in this as well as every other city appreciate this spirit of modesty, and so many of them adopt the free pew system, so as to relieve sensitive people of embarrassment.

The plan is all right and doubtless adds to church attendance, and results in good and yet the expenses of the church go on with monotonous regularity and somebody has the bills to pay.

The average salary of Janesville pastors is about $1,500. In some cases this includes house rent, where the society owns its parsonage.

The music costs from five to six hundred more; fuel and lights additional; janitor and incidentals a couple of hundred more. Twenty-five hundred dollars would perhaps be a safe estimate for average church support.

This money in several of the churches is contributed by voluntary subscriptions, and an effort is made to have as many members and friends share the burden as possible. In some cases the money is paid in weekly installments, and the bills are paid every week.

The per capita cost of supporting Janesville churches is about two dollars. Not a heavy tax if it could be equally distributed, but it is safe to assume that the entire bill is paid by less than one-fifth of the population.

It sometimes happens that half a dozen men find it necessary to stand under the financial burdens of the church, paying liberally through the year and then doubling the amount at the close to meet deficiencies.

These conditions exist where societies are weak. It is possible to have too many churches in a town. Janesville would be better off with one Methodist and one Episcopal society. The membership of two separate organizations would make one strong church. The clergy would be better paid, and financial burdens relieved.

The moral character of a city is determined by the strength and prosperity of the churches. The obligation for their support should be more generally recognized.

GREAT FUN AT THE UNIQUE CLUB BALL

The Unique club masquerade given last evening at Assembly hall was a success in every particular. Early in the evening the maskers began to assemble and soon there were over one hundred couples dressed in all sorts of fantastic costumes making fun for the large number of spectators that lined the floor and filled the balcony.

The "Florodora Sextette" did not pan out on account of some of the young ladies not arriving. The gentlemen were there with their white duck suits and looked very nice. Gale Nicholson and Louis Depp as hobnobbers, Fred Richter and Harry P. Robinson as Germans caused much merriment. Grant Turner and John Mosher had good Irish make-ups and Mrs. Charles Knapp and Mrs. William Buch made first-class Irish women. Mrs. Charles Young was dressed as one of the "Unique Indians."

The dancers unmasked at eleven o'clock and from then on until two o'clock the floor was filled with dancers gliding about to the excellent music furnished by Smith's full orchestra.

The committees in charge of the party saw that nothing was left undone that would add to the pleasure of their guests who pronounced it one of the successes of the season.

BENEFIT FOR THE USHERS

"A Wise Guy," a farce that made a pronounced success last season and was considered one of the funniest shows of the year, will be the attraction at the Myers Grand, Monday, Jan. 20. The management claim "A Wise Guy" has been somewhat changed or rewritten, and is now tuned right up to date. Edmund Hayes still plays the husky piano mover, and the cast includes: Adele Palmer, the Harony Four, John McVeigh, Katherine Hayes, Three Sylvester Sisters, Gertrude Homes, Edna Farrell, Margaret Robinson, Denis Mullen, Chas. Trainer, C. W. Totten, Charles Miller and a large chorus.

A typical Hoyt farce with all the latest fun presented in a manner to suit the popular taste, is "A Day and a Night." The company presenting the merry comedy is said to be fully equal to the requirements of the play. The story relates the exploits of a very modest New Jersey youth during a day and a night in New York, while in search of voices for the village choir. His father, a commodore of the United States navy, and a thoroughbred, is disgusted with the milk and water character of his condescendence stricken son, and determines to effect a change, so he arranges that his son shall meet a lot of comic opera singers. In the subsequent scenes the son displays true sporting proclivities, and sets a pace that meets the complete approbation of the parent, who, in the final act, is discovered, in company with his son, and a lot of chorus girls at a late supper, by his sanctimonious wife. The denouement is very clever. It appears here Friday, Jan. 24.

"The Belle of New York," which will be seen in this city at the Myers Grand on Tuesday, Feb. 11, although located in the great metropolis, contains an unusual number of novel scenes and original characters. It is satirical in a way and yet it pictures every-day life as seen by those who have studied human nature. One of its most interesting characters, aside from the Salvation Army lassie, is shown in the Pell street scene. This characterization is Betty, a poor tenement wail, and the contrast between her and the sweet young Salvation Army girl, as they stand side by side, is most startling. Betty appears in a ragged costume, red face and bleary eyes. The character is portrayed by Miss Virginia Ross and it is considered one of the most artistic performances in the play, although she is on the stage but a short time. In the succeeding act Miss Ross displays her versatility by playing a bright, handsome young American girl.

What Johnny Told the Minister. A well known North side divine tells this story concerning a little 5-year-old in this city. His mother expected the minister to dinner and thought it might not be out of place to coach the little fellow some, as he was inclined to be wayward.

"Now, Johnny," she said, "when the minister comes to dinner and asks you how old you are you must say—5 years old. Then when he asks you who you love you must say everybody. When he asks you where had boys go when they die tell him they go to hell."

The minister, as usual, patted the little fellow on the head and asked: "How old are you my boy?" The little fellow scratched his head a moment to think what his mother had told him to say and then he blurted out: "Five years old; I love everybody; go to hell."

Of course the mother explained that the little fellow had answered all the questions at once and that he meant no rudeness to the minister. —Milwaukee Sentinel.

Dragged by a Street Car. Just as the Main street car on the electric road left the Bowler City Bank corner this morning at about a quarter to eight a gentleman ran out and signalled the motorman to stop. Evidently the motorman did not see the man for just as he took hold of the rail on the side of the car the motorman turned on the current full head. The result was that the gentleman was jerked off his feet and not daring to let go was dragged on his knees from Milwaukee to Court streets.

By the time the car reached Court street it was going at a lively gait and the gentleman finally let go rather than be dragged the length of main street. He turned several somersaults before he could regain his equilibrium. It hardly seemed possible that the motorman could not see the gentleman when he motioned for him to stop but the signal showed he did not.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF LINE CITY

Beloit, Wis., Jan. 11.—Wm. Schutz a foreman for the Cunningham Bros., contractors, lies badly injured at the hospital, the result of a frightful fall he sustained Friday forenoon. His skull is fractured, one of his wrists broken and he has a frightful scalp wound. The accident happened because Mr. Schutz took hold of a piece of loose timber to support his weight, thinking it was fastened. He was working alone on the roof of Wm. Deaht's residence on Fifth street, and in walking on the scaffolding planned to turn a corner, and seeing a piece of 2 x 4 scantling in a gutter, a stick that he had himself laid there he forgot for the moment that it was loose, and took hold of it to support his weight as he turned the corner. By doing so he lost his balance and fell to the ground a distance of 30 feet.

The Greek department of Beloit college, which has attained a national reputation for the Greek tragedies presented here every year by the sophomore class, may this year bid for laurels in a new field. The present sophomore class, at the suggestion of Prof. T. L. Wright, is consulting one of the Greek comedies which are almost as famous as the tragedies.

Two girls hired a livery horse at Smith's livery stable last evening and it is alleged drove the animal so hard, that on its return to the stable it fell dead.

Eruptions

Dry, moist, scaly, itchy, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

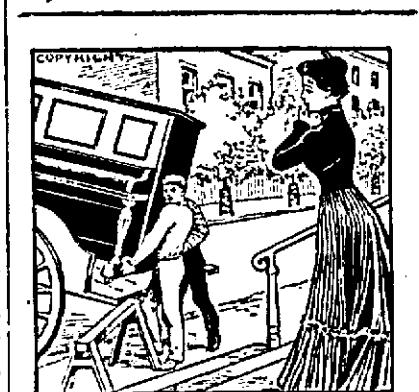

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

The thing to do is to help the system discharge the humors, and to strengthen it against their return.

Hood's Sarsaparilla permanently cured J. G. Hines, Franks, Ill., of eczema, from which he had suffered for some time; and Miss Alvina Wolter, Box 212, Algona, Wis., of pimples on her face and back and chafed skin on her body, by which she had been greatly troubled. KEEP OFF CANAL STRIP, SAYS U. S.

Freedom of Transit Over the Nicaraguan Route Is Guaranteed.

THAT POSITION IS ASSUMED.

French Company Makes Formal Offer to Sell for $10,000,000—The Morgan Canal Bill Is Now Pending in the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The United States even at this time, without the perfection of the protocols between this country and Costa Rica and Nicaragua, holds that it is responsible for the freedom of transit over the proposed Nicaraguan canal strip. This extremely important statement was made this afternoon in view of the alarming statements cabled from the south that Nicaragua was about to precipitate a war in which Costa Rica, Honduras and San Salvador would become involved.

While the South American ministers here do not credit the story, yet it is sufficient to bring out the attitude of the United States government as above outlined.

The United States, therefore, assumes that it is in precisely the same position with reference to the canal strip as it is with reference to the Panama railroad and its free transit.

This declaration is in line with the statement that the understanding between Secretary Hay and Lord Lansdowne was that the canal strip should be inviolable under all changes of sovereignty.

The legitimate extension of this principle would be that the United States would dispossess any nation which attempted to hold the canal strip.

M. Lampre, secretary of the Panama Canal company, will appear before the inter-oceanic canal committee of the senate at a meeting. Senator Morgan, chairman of the committee, said that he had requested the presence of M. Lampre to give him an opportunity to present any reasons he may have for the United States purchasing that property. M. Lampre will also be given an opportunity to show whether or not his company can give a clear title to the Panama route.

The committee of which Mr. Morgan is chairman is making every effort to bring to light all the forces which make for delay of the Nicaragua canal again and to prove that delay is the sole object of the opponents of the Nicaragua canal.

M. Lampre said that the formal offer of the Panama Canal company to sell out to the United States government for $10,000,000 arrived yesterday and was formally laid before Admiral Walker. A copy of this offer was deposited with Ambassador Porter at the United States embassy in Paris.

The overwhelming vote in the house will have great effect in disconcerting any opposition heretofore existing in the senate to the Nicaragua route. This opinion was voiced by Senator Bacon, who said:

"I assume the senate will pass the Nicaragua canal bill. The decisive vote of the house will undoubtedly strengthen this measure in the senate."

The Morgan canal bill now pending before the senate committee on inter-oceanic canals, resembles in all material aspects, the Hepburn measure. The bill, when it comes before the senate, will be known as the Hepburn-Morgan bill.

GIVE HER A CHANCE!

County President W.C.T.U., Mrs. H. F. Roberts, of Kansas City,

Says to All Sick Women: "Give Mrs. Pinkham a Chance, I Know She Can Help You as She Did Me."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—The world praises great reformers; their names and fumes are in the ears of everybody, and the public press helps spread the good tidings. Among them all Lydia E. Pinkham's name goes to posterity with a softly breathed blessing from the lips of thousands upon thousands of women who have been restored to their families when life hung by a thread, and by thousands of others whose weary, aching limbs you have quickened and whose pains you have taken away."

MRS. H. F. ROBERTS.

"I know whereof I speak, for I have received much valuable benefit myself through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and for years I have known dozens of women who have suffered with displacement, ovarian troubles, ulcerations and inflammation who are strong and well-to-day, simply through the use of your Compound. I feel sure you will never know one-half the good you have done humanity, and I only wish every suffering woman could know what you can do for her, would she only just give you the chance. Fraternally yours, Mrs. H. F. Roberts, 1404 McGee St., Kansas City, Mo."

Women, do you realize the generosity of Mrs. Pinkham's freely offered advice?

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham. She will understand your case perfectly, and will treat you with kindness. Her advice is free, and the address is Lynn, Mass. No woman ever regretted having written her, and she has helped thousands. Her medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is the true help for nervous, sick and ailing women. It regulates the monthly sickness and overcomes all those uterine derangements that excite the nerves. This is the easy and the right way to get the help you need. Read the letters from the women she has helped.

When women are troubled with irregularities, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, indigestion, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, inflammation of the ovaries, general debility, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

$5000 REWARD Owing to the fact that some skeptical people have from time to time questioned the genuineness of the testimonial letters we are constantly publishing, we have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, Mass., $5,000, which will be paid to any person who will show that the above testimonial is not genuine, or was published before obtaining the writer's special permission.—Lydia E. SPIRIT OF REBELLION.

"I won't! I won't! I won't!"
The little foot came down with a stamp, while a frown chased away the smile and the child stood at defiance, while the mother waited for her to obey.

"Don't you want to be mother's good little girl? Santa Claus won't bring you anything for Christmas if you act like that," and the mother watched the face, from which the frowns quickly faded, for Santa Claus had been the all absorbing thought for days and the active little tongue and brain had been busy with the old saint from fairyland.

Coming over to the mother's side and patting her hand with loving touch, she said:

"Like you mamma and I'll be good for Santa Claus. Will he bring me a dolly and a carriage and lots of things for Christmas, if I'm good?"
The mother assured her that all good little girls belonged to Santa Claus, and he never forgot them. The storm was over and the sunny smile returned, and the prattle of happy childhood filled the house.

Just a spirit of rebellion, that starts in the cradle, develops with the years, and expires in the grave. As natural to humanity as breath, causing constant solicitude through childhood and youth, and constant annoyance through all the years of maturity.

The word of command is seldom a welcome message, and yet it is as necessary to success, as any message that ever came to a life.

However lovingly it may be given in the home, and whatever tact may be used to enforce, it should be imperative, for the little lives that are being moulded in the nursery are preparing for the larger life where commands are constant and where duty and not love is the controlling force.

Many children and young people are possessed of the notion that when they get away from the restraints of home, and out into the world of activity, that they will be free, to do as they please, with no one to criticize or advise.

They chafe under restraint and long before they are ready to launch out for themselves, they feel that the father is severe and the mother critical, and that they are abundantly able to look out for themselves.

This is a mistaken notion, that is all too common in American homes of the present day. Active life, from start to finish, is a life of discipline, and the boy or girl who enters it with any other notion, is not only handicapped in the race, but soon becomes a camp follower in any department selected.

The boy in the store or office soon discovers that it is not necessary to say "I won't," for his employer to understand that he is an unwilling servant, and if he possesses this disposition he should never be surprised when he is invited to look for another job.

If he chooses industrial pursuits and is a time server, instead of a cheerful and willing worker, he invites the same fate.

The girl in the kitchen recognizes the word of command, while her sister in the school room is not long in discovering that she is under authority.

So in every department of life, where people find employment, obedience is irksome in proportion to the spirit that the boy or girl takes into it from the home.

But some one says: "How about the other side of the question, the employer? He is accountable to nobody, and his life is thoroughly independent and free from command." That is a natural supposition and many people believe it to be true, but it is as false as vanity itself.

The man or woman who succeeds in business of whatever nature is under the most rigid discipline, and experience teaches very early in their history that the price of success is absolute obedience. The laws that govern trade are immutable, and when they are defied, the law never suffers. This is as true of the professions as it is of commerce and the industries.

The first law is absolute loyalty and honesty. The calling must absorb the individual so completely that every energy responds to the calls made upon it. The man or the woman who becomes indifferent to an occupation that is chosen for a life work, or who attempts to introduce dishonest methods is as sure to fail as time is to progress. A business never runs itself, and it never runs very long in the hands of neglect or dishonesty.

Combined with loyalty and honor, is faithfulness, intelligence and a determination that knows nothing about failure, however discouraging may be the circumstances.

All hard taskmasters and yet inexorable in their demands. The successful independent toiler knows nothing about an eight or ten hour day.

His time belongs to his calling and after the key locks in the day's transactions, the active brain continues to wrestle with the problems that refuse to be hung up with the office coat in the closet.

The balance sheet at the end of the year may be satisfactory, or it may reveal loss. He can't throw up the job and strike for shorter hours and better wages if the year has been against him, however much he would enjoy the privilege, but he is expected to stay by the ship and so change and direct its course as to save it from wreck and disaster, and all because he is working under a code of unwritten laws that demand absolute obedience.

The discipline of the home, that has to do with undeveloped life, may seem irksome and rigid, but it is the mildest discipline known to human experience. In the larger field of activity, there is no vision of Santa Claus, or any other myth to incite obedience, and there is no avoiding the penalty for disobedience.

The pathway of life is strewn with wreckage caused by neglect to obey the laws that govern with an inexorable hand. The penalty is not always swift, but it is always sure.

There is another realm more intangible where government is ignored, and penalties suffered, and that is the realm of the unseen. Many people defy this government, not through ignorance, but through willfulness and neglect. It deals with the physical, the mental, and the moral, and is supreme in every department.

Violate the laws of health, and disease results. Neglect the mind, and ignorance soon takes possession and destroys the life. Indifference to morality and the better nature, never fails to leave the scars of sin and disobedience.

Fortunate the boy or girl who goes out of the home with the spirit of rebellion subdued. The chances for success are infinitely better, than in the school of hard experience where failure is so common.

Add to this, spirit of obedience, which every well regulated home attempts to develop, the spirit of submission to a Higher Power, and the life is well rounded at an early age of experience, and the chances for the highest success are possible to the most humble toiler.

The address of Senator Whitehead at Madison, has given the people of the state something to think about. There is no politics in the question and it should not be so regarded. The problem of taxation is purely economic, and entitled to the most fair and impartial discussion.

There appears to be music all along the line, with very little discord apparent. Senator Whitehead innocently gave the keynote in his Madison address, and the band has been playing ever since. Harmony is necessary to melody and is quite essential to success.

All sorts of bouquets are being thrown at Senator Whitehead, and while he appreciates the kindly things being said about him, he is not inflated beyond normal conditions, and he wears the same sized hat as heretofore.

"You can't make a whistle out of a pig's tail," any more than you can harmonize a buzz saw and a bass drum. The man at Madison is not a harmonizer, unless all symptoms are deceiving.

The logical candidate for governor is Robert M. La Follette. If he possesses the ability to harmonize the party he can succeed himself without opposition. If he lacks this ability, logic can't save him.

Duck shooting on Niagara river is a little exciting. A hunter was recently caught in an ice floe and his boat and game went over the falls. He was rescued by a friendly rope thrown out from shore.

Wireless telegraphy is on the road to success. Ocean cable companies contemplate a rival, and as a result, stocks in these corporations have recently declined several points.

Eight candidates are contesting for the late Senator Sewall's place in New Jersey. The state is small, but it appears to have an abundance of political timber.

PRESS COMMENT.

Watertown Times: John. M. Whitehead of Janesville is being spoken of as a republican candidate for governor. The stalwarts might go further and fare worse.

La Crosse Republican-Leader: The republican party of Wisconsin might look further than the Hon. John M. Whitehead for gubernatorial timber, and fare worse.

Director Taylor will direct the construction of the St. Louis World's Fair from a balloon. This is as it should be. Such work requires a man of the very highest intelligence.

Milwaukee Journal: For once Mr. Bryan is right. You cannot prevent anarchy by law. It is a pity he had not learned the fact some time ago that you cannot create values by the same process.

Evening Wisconsin: There will be a good deal of yellowness in connection with the oleomargarine hearings before the congressional committee, both among the oleo and the butter advocates.

Milwaukee News: At any rate,

King Edward's coronation will have the advantage over our presidential inauguration of not having to reconcile the show with democratic simplicity.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Apparently Former Governor Peck was too old a bird to be caught with the chaff of a minor public appointment under the administration of Mayor Rose of Milwaukee, and the position of city controller was therefore given to Alderman George H. Chase.

Tomah Herald: There was a meeting of the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance company of Tomah during the past week. Farmers from all about this section gathered to attend to the annual business of the organization. A request for opinions on political matters brought forth, the reply, "We are all republicans—and we are all anti-La Follette men."

Fond du Lac Commonwealth, stalwart rep.: Republicans of Wisconsin have found Senator Whitehead a safe leader at all times, and they will be especially pleased with his attitude on the problem of taxation. The address, delivered Monday night, will constitute a valuable hand book on the subject.

Racine Journal: The address of Hon. John M. Whitehead, at Janesville, on taxation, is as able and argumentative a presentation of this question as has ever been delivered in the state. He favors a tax commission, and is of the conviction the legislature should devise some effective method of taxing and getting at tangible property of every method.

The Tomah Herald is not opposing La Follette. It is trying to reform him. If he could but see the wonderful opportunities for usefulness which are open to him and which he persists in disregarding, how easy it would be to heal the uncomfortable breach in the party. Gov. La Follette, listen to the voice of the people. Trust not too far in your own little opinions and ideas. It is the plain people who rule this land.

Whitewater Gazette: The Milwaukee Free Press of yesterday refers to Senator Whitehead's taxation speech as the advance courier of a campaign in favor of Whitehead's candidacy for governor. While the speech was probably never thought of in that light by Mr. Whitehead, the first district stands ready to renew its allegiance to Mr. Whitehead's candidacy. Two years ago the district was solid for the Janesville senator and there is no change of heart. In fact, Mr. Whitehead was closely watched in the legislature last winter and we still believe he is the man for governor.

"That's the golden rule, and I believe in it, too. Don't you?"
"Well," replied Burroughs, "if I did I'd be offering to lend you $10 this minute."—Philadelphia Press.

NORTHER WISCONSIN SENTIMENT.

Ashland Press: This paper has not been among the ranks of those who have entered into factional discussions of the merits or demerits of the governor of Wisconsin, or of his foes or friends. It has noted with amazement the attitude of some papers which appear to have been bent upon trying to tear down the republican organization of Wisconsin. After all that has been said and done, there remains one thing yet to be done, and that is for the republicans of this state to get together upon a candidate for governor, and to agree upon a man whom every republican can support with pride. Northern Wisconsin has no candidate of its own. The republicans of the Lake Superior region only ask one thing, and that is that they may support some man for governor who is not a factionist.

Without entering into a full discussion of the men whom the party does not seem to be able to support as a united party. The Press would suggest the name of a man whom every so-called stalwart and every so-called half-breed can support, and that man is John M. Whitehead of Janesville. Senator Whitehead's great speech before the Six O'clock club of Madison stamps him as the man of the hour. It is significant that his remarks upon the tax question are hailed as the true doctrine of such men as Amos P. Wilder, editor of the leading administration paper of the state, and by the opponents of the administration. The Madison State Journal cannot be accused of being unfriendly to the state administration, and it is good to hear the editor, who has been a consistent friend of Governor La Follette, say in reference to Senator Whitehead's Madison address: "Whatever the outcome, it is always good to see and hear an honest, fair and able man like Senator Whitehead clarify a situation so far as he is a factor." If Senator Whitehead is "honest, fair and able," then he is the man for the republicans of the state to support. The northern part of the state suggests the name of Senator Whitehead, a man from the southern part of the state. If he receives the loyal support of the southern part of the state that he will receive from Northern Wisconsin he will be the next governor of this great state. Senator Whitehead is no new discovery. He is an experienced legislator, a sound business man, an educated man, in the prime of life, only fifty years of age, and, above all, is "honest, fair and able."

The New North nominates John M. Whitehead of Janesville for governor of Wisconsin.

AUTHOR IN POLITICS.

Booth Tarkington to Enter the Field of Statesmanship.

When Booth Tarkington, the author, wrote "The Gentleman From Indiana" and followed it with "Benacore," there was much wonder among literary folk that the same man could produce works in such widely different styles. His classmates at Princeton, however, were not surprised, as in college he was always known as the most versatile man in his class.

Now Mr. Tarkington has prepared another surprise for his friends. He has announced that he will be a candidate for the legislature of Indiana. Booth Tarkington is a native of Indianapolis and is thirty-one years of age. He is an Indiana man through to the backbone and takes a lively interest in the welfare of his native state. His advent into politics will be watched with interest by his friends, who predict for him further honors in the field of statesmanship.

As an illustration of Tarkington's versatility it is related that when preparing for Princeton at Purdue university he one evening amused a crowd of students by his skill with the piano, followed by playing the guitar, after which he composed college songs. He finished the performance by drawing pictures.

Writes Looking at a Pigsty.

Literary workers have usually a great struggle to force themselves to work, and one novelist has solved the difficulty in an unusual way. He built a beautiful house on the Kentish coast, with a study fitted with every convenience and an outlook on the channel. It is so beautiful a study that when he is in it he cannot think of anything else. So, in despair, he has rented a room in an inland farmhouse, which has no comforts and commands a view of a pigsty. Thither he retires when serious work is in question.

SURPRISING RESULTS.

A Simple Internal Remedy Makes Remarkable Cures of Catarrh.

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves and washes for catarrh and have found how useless and inconvenient they are, will be agreeably surprised at the results following the use of a pleasant, internal remedy in tablet form: Druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, which they sell at

50 cents for full sized treatment is the safest, most effective and popular of all catarrh remedies.

Nearly all cheap cough mixtures and throat lozenges contain opiates; these cheap medicines give a temporary relief, especially with little children by destroying nerve sensation; the irritation in throat which causes coughing is temporarily removed, not by removing the cause but by deadening the nerves of feeling the irritation is not felt although it is still there and will promptly return.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the best remedy to remove catarrhal secretion, whether in the nose, throat or stomach because they are composed of wholesome antiseptics like Red Gum, Blood Root, etc., when you use these tablets you know what you are putting into your system and not taking chances with cocaine, opiates or similar poisons found in so many catarrh cures and cough medicines.

Dr. Ramsdell in commenting on catarrh cures, says: "I can heartily recommend Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, because they contain no cocaine nor other injurious drug found in so many advertised catarrh cures. I have known of many cases of long standing catarrh in the head and throat completely cured by the edaily use of these tablets for several weeks. One case in particular, which I could not reach with an inhaler or spray and where the catarrh caused daily headaches and a noticeable loss of hearing was entirely cured by this harmless but effective remedy."

Dr. Vainwright says: "I never hesitate to prescribe Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for catarrhal headaches and catarrhal deafness because I know them to be perfectly safe for child or adult and have seen many remarkable cures resulting from their regular daily use; because they are advertised and sold in drug stores is no reason why any good physician should not use them because we should seize upon the means of cure wherever found."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are especially valuable for catarrhal colds in children because they are pleasant to the taste and may be used freely to break up severe colds and croup at the very beginning.

"We have four children. With the first three I suffered almost unbearable pains from 12 to 14 hours, and had to be placed under the influence of chloroform. This liniment is the greatest remedy ever made."

will do for every woman what it did for the Minnesota mother who writes the above letter. Not to use it during pregnancy is a mistake to be paid for in pain and suffering. Mother's Friend equips the patient with a strong body and clear intellect, which in turn are imparted to the child. It relaxes the muscles and allows them to expand. It relieves morning sickness and nervousness. It puts all the organs concerned in perfect condition for the final hour, so that the actual labor is short and practically painless. Danger of rising or hard breaths is altogether avoided, and recovery is merely a matter of a few days.

Deputy Game Wardens Make a Haul and Destroy the Fish Catch and the Lines.

Deputy Game Wardens Peter Drafiel of this district and Herman Vollbrecht of the Milwaukee district, were in the city this morning from a chase after the illegal fishermen on Lake Koshkonong. During the trip they confiscated about 150 pounds of fish and took up and destroyed about three hundred and fifty lines.

The wardens say it is almost impossible to catch the violators of the law for the reason that they all have cloaks and pike poles and can shove themselves around on the ice much faster than the wardens can run.

The lines taken up by the wardens are only a small part of the number in use. The state game warden is determined to break up this illegal fishing and will send four or five wardens down to the lake to catch the violators of the law and destroy the set lines.

The attorney general has just rendered an opinion that the five lines each man is allowed to use while fishing through the ice must be taken up at night when the men stop fishing. He holds that if they are left over night with no one to tend them that they become set lines, the use of which is forbidden.

Deputy Vollbrecht went to Madison today and will give the department the full particulars of the fishing at the lake so they can decide how many men are needed to stop the unlawful work.

Cardinal-Siebel Wedding
Last Wednesday evening in the presence of a company of fifty relatives and intimate friends, Miss Anna B. Siebel became the wife of Marvin Cardine, of this city, the beautiful ceremony by which they entered upon life's most sacred obligations being solemnized at the pleasant home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Siebel in the town of Plymouth. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Paul Rasche of Hanover.

The wedding was an especially beautiful one being characterized by elegant simplicity and artistic taste. At eight o'clock the soft strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Jeannie Davis of Evansville, a cousin of the groom, sounded softly through the rooms and to its music the bride descended the stairs, preceded by Miss Henrietta Cardine of Albany, as maid of honor, and Miss Louise Siebel, a sister of the bride as bridesmaid, the bride was handsomely gowned in white organdie and carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

Her attendants wore costumes of white Persian lawn. At the marriage altar the bride and her attendants were met by the groom and his attendants, William Siebel, a brother of the bride and Paul Willing and Rev. Rasche, before whom the marriage vows were exchanged. The beautiful ceremony was especially impressive. After congratulations had been extended an elegant wedding supper was served at a pretty decorated tables.

MILWAUKEE HOPE'S TO KEEP ST. PAUL

Official Denial of Rumors Relative to Through Passenger Trains Via Janesville.

The fast trains of the Milwaukee road will not run by the way of Madison and Portage or by the way of Prairie du Chien. This statement is made by Asst. Gen'l Man. W. J. Underwood, says the Milwaukee Journal.

There have been persistent rumors recently that this would be done. Early rumors had it out that the train would go by the way of the Madison and Portage line, but President Earling having disposed of this rumor another grew up that they would go by the way of Prairie du Chien. It was elaborately explained that this route would be forty miles shorter than by way of Milwaukee, so that Milwaukee would be shut out from fast trains.

Denies All the Rumors
Mr. Underwood denies all these rumors and says: "We have no intention of taking the trains off the Milwaukee route. In the first place all our arrangements are to run by way of Milwaukee and in the other instead of the distance being forty miles shorter by the way of the Janesville line it would be forty miles longer."

"Where these rumors come from it is hard to say, but I surely not from anyone who is connected with the road or who knows the physical conditions. It is safe to say that no one connected with the road has ever given one word that could be construed as verifying such rumors that we have plans ready. It is all rot. No officer would do such a thing for the idea has not been considered. As I said, the route would be longer and harder and we would be the losers."

General Manager Williams supplemented Mr. Underwood's remarks by saying: "There is no foundation whatever for the rumor in reference to the detouring of the fast mail trains."

Supt. Bush Also Denies
Assistant General Superintendent D. L. Bush, in discussing this oft repeated rumor, said: "People do not understand the conditions or they would not either start or believe such reports. It is impossible to run the fast mail by any other route and the same is true of the other fast trains. The mail is not run as a through train between terminals but it is a fast way train. It carries mail to Milwaukee, Oconomowoc, Watertown, Columbus, Portage, Keshiwa, Tomah, the Wisconsin Valley, Sparta, Winona, Hastings, Red Wing and other stations. Therefore it must run over the route it now takes. The government would not have it otherwise and there would be no profit in doing otherwise."

If we attempted to run over the Janesville line we would have mail for Janesville and Madison and that is all. The same applies to passenger trains. Aside from all physical conditions the business conditions alone would prevent it. There is no danger that the trains will leave the present route."

LITTLE SOFT COAL
ON THE MARKETS

Local Factories Are Bothered to Get Enough to Keep Their Plants Running.

For the last two weeks the factories in this city dependent upon soft coal for fuel to run their engines have been on the anxious seat and it has been a question with them whether or not they would have to shut down.

The Hanson factory was shut down for three days last week on account of the lack of coal but they finally succeeded in getting some from the yards in this city to run them until they could get some by rail. Other factories by being careful, of their fuel supply and through help of their neighbors kept going but had to do some close figuring.

The coal dealers say there is very little soft coal at the docks in Chicago, Milwaukee and other cities and that they cannot get their orders filled. Another thing that they have to contend with is the railroads which takes all the coal they need to operate the road and if there is any left the dealer gets it.

There seems to be a scarcity of cars to get the coal from the mines on account of the large grain carrying business that is being done.

During the summer the coal carrying vessels on the lakes were in great demand and high rates of freight were charged so that the big dealers in the cities did not put in their usual supply. The price of soft coal in Chicago has almost doubled in the last few weeks and cannot be secured even at the advanced prices. The railroad agents say, however, that they are now getting more coal and will soon be able to supply dealers with all they need.

The following from an exchange will serve as a reminder to those who are so apt to forget their home merchants:

"Who sympathized with you when your little girl was sick? Was it your home merchant or was it Sears, Roebuck & Co? Who carried you last winter when you were out of a job and had no money? Was it Montgomery Ward & Co., or was it your home merchant? When you want to raise money for the church or some needy person in town, do you write to the 'Fair' store in Chicago or do you go to your home merchant? How much does Siegel, Cooper & Co. give toward keeping up the sidewalk walks of the town or paying the minister's salary? When you were sick how many nights did Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co. sit up with you? When your loved one was buried was it your home merchant who dropped a tear of sympathy and uttered the cheering word, or was it Marshall, Field & Co."

IRELAND MAY DEDICATE CHURCH

Famous Archbishop of the Catholic Church May Be Induced to Speak in Janesville After Easter.

An effort is being made to induce Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, to attend and deliver an address at the dedicating of the new St. Mary's Catholic church in this city. Rev. Father Goebel stated this morning that he would make the effort to secure the services of Archbishop Ireland but that there was much doubt about the acceptance of the invitation. In case the Archbishop decides not to come some other speaker of note will be secured. Work on the new church is daily being rushed by the contractors so that the dedicating ceremony may take place some time soon after Easter. The new edifice when completed will be the chief of the finest in the state. The edifying work will be the most gorgeous any Catholic church in Wisconsin. Milwaukee decorators are now doing this part of the work. Prior to the dedication a week's bazaar will be held in the new church in order to add to the building fund. When completed the new edifice will cost in the close neighborhood of $15,000.

Mr. H. P. Hanson, of 103 Pleasant St., engineer, employed at the Janesville Machine Co., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me all the good that could be expected and I recommend them to any one who may be troubled with a lame back or any kidney disorder. After procuring them at the People's Drug Store and taking them I felt better, my back did not ache like it did, and I did not rise in the morning with a lame and sore back. I suffered from these symptoms for four or five years and I was more than pleased at the results obtained from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."

SHARON STREET

Veteran A. F. Lee, of 61 Sharon St., carpenter, says: "For twenty years it troubled me a great deal, many days I could hardly keep at my work, and by rights should have stayed at home and doctored. It was seldom that my back did not ache, and I have been laid up for three or four days at a stretch. When stooping or lifting sharp twinges penetrated the kidneys, the secretions from these organs were too frequent, and accompanied by pain. I used all kinds of remedies, but none gave permanent relief. Obtaining Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's Drug Co., I took them, and after the first three or four doses a noticeable change was brought about. I improved steadily from then on and on completing the treatment I was in good condition and am now well."

SO. FRANKLIN ST.

Mr. L. Lawrence, of 408 S. Franklin St., engineer at the Janesville Electric Light Co., says: "Seven years ago I injured my back by falling through a bridge near Afton, into the Rock river. I was on a traction engine, its weight broke through, and the whole thing went into the stream. Since that time my back has ached by spells, sometimes very severely. If I caught cold it settled in my kidneys and if I brought a strain on my back lifting, the result was a bad backache and sharp twinges of pain in my loins. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills and after I used them I was free from backache. I am in better health than at any time since falling through the bridge."

STORY OF A STOVE.

How It Changed From Surliness to Gentility and Good Behavior.

There was once a stove that stood in the sitting room of a little house. It was a new stove fresh from the store. The new stove looked around and made up its mind it didn't like the place and wouldn't stay. It wouldn't even speak to the tall desk in the corner or to the old red couch near by. It was just going to be as cross as it could be. Then the lady would send it home to the store, thought the stove.

Pretty soon the lady came in and said, "This is such a cold day that we must have a good hot fire in our new stove." So the cook brought in lots of coal and wood and newspapers and put them into the stove---first the papers to make a blaze, then the pieces of wood laid across one another and lastly the coal. Then she lit the paper and shut the stove door and went away, but the lady sat down to sew and to watch the fire burn.

But the fire wouldn't burn. You see, the stove was so cross and sulky it just wouldn't warm up the room. So after a long while the lady suddenly found the room was just as cold as ever, and she wondered, "Why doesn't that stove burn up?"

And the naughty stove chuckled to itself and thought what a fine trick it was playing.

Then the lady opened one little door in the stove and shut another and pulled out one knob and pushed in another and shook the stove good and said, "Now, you'll burn!" Then she sat down again to sew.

The stove didn't like to be shaken one bit, and it grumbled to itself, "I'll teach her how to shake me!" And it began to burn and burn and burn and get red hot, it was so angry, and made the room so warm that the lady had to jump up in a hurry and open all the windows.

Then she poured on some more coal and shut some more doors in the stove and went out of the room. And when she was gone the stove had time to think. So it looked around the room once more and thought: "It isn't such a bad room after all. Guess I'll stay." And it began to talk to the desk and the couch real sociable-like.

And when the lady came back she found a nice warm fire, and the stove was smiling all over with happiness.---Lys Loyett in Brooklyn Eagle.

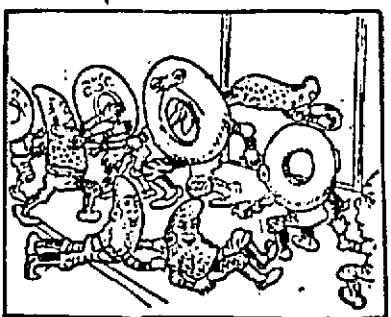

Divers' Limitations.

Submarine divers have not yet succeeded in reaching 200 feet below the surface with all the advantage of armor, air supply and weights to sink them. The effort has been made to reach a wreck in 240 feet of water. The accounts state that at 130 feet the diver began to experience serious trouble. At 200 feet, after suffering terribly, he lost consciousness and was hauled up. Divers cannot work much below 100 feet.

A Queer Football Game.

All the Pentry Folk docked to the ball ground one day. For the Doughnuts and Pickles were scheduled to play. The Cookies, the Crackers, the Jam Jars were there. The Salt Shaker umpired to make the game fair. The Doughnuts were cheered as they came on the scene. Whereat all the Pickles from envy turned green.

The Doughnuts were doughy; full well could they kick. But the Pickles soon beat them by one simple trick. For when they lined up at the field captain's call some feet footed Pickle would capture the ball. Then, watching his chance for an opening line, he'd dive through a Doughnut and cross the goal line.

Woman Still Forging Ahead.

When Bishop Potter of New York was asked the other day what he thought of woman suffrage he made the diplomatic reply: "My dear madam, I have got away beyond that; I am trying to make the best terms with the sex that I can obtain." This brings to mind the motto of William M. Everts when asked by a lady if he did not think that woman was the best judge of woman. He replied: "Not only the best judge, madam, but the best executioner."

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 11.---Twelve men who will try Jim Howard were finally selected in the afternoon. All the jurors are said to have voted for Goebel for governor except one. In selecting the jury the commonwealth used four of the five challenges, the defense twelve of its fifteen. Howard pleaded not guilty to the charge of murder as named in the indictment. Former Judge Ben Williams began the opening statement for the commonwealth. Mr. Williams spoke of the bitter political contest between the Democratic and Republican parties in 1899.

New Oil Field Enriches Hogg.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 11.---The discovery of oil in Texas, in an entirely new field, is said to have increased the wealth of former Governor Hogg over $8,000,000, he owning in fee simple 270 acres of land of the 400 acres comprising the elevation on which the oil is found. Mr. Hogg says this discovery is of much greater importance than the Beaumont strike, as the new field is only eighteen miles from the deep water port of Vallesco. The well is said to be flowing at least 30,000 barrels of oil daily.

Will Combine to Control Prices.

Pittsburg, Jan. 11.---Arrangements have been made for a meeting of the principal companies manufacturing wire and wire nails in this city next Tuesday, when it is probable that an arbitrary price association will be formed for the purpose of controlling the prices of wire and wire nails.

Seek Relief!

The great proportion of women who suffer never make a serious effort to benefit themselves. The most of them go on paying no attention to their little menstrual disorders, believing they will eventually wear off. They grow worse and worse every day. At the period of menstruation a woman is peculiarly susceptible to cold and other external influences and it is also the most favorable time for the development of hidden disease germs which may be lurking in the system. Any physician knows that disordered menstruation, falling of the womb and leucorrhoea are blighting lives in almost every home. No woman should neglect herself a moment after she sees indications of female diseases. Almost instant relief can be secured by the use of

WINE OF CARDUI

It will relieve you right in your own home. Will you accept the testimony of Mrs. Belger and thousands of other women and really seek relief today? All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

100 Chicago Street, Fort Wayne, Ind., March 27, 1900.
Your Wine of Cardui has done a world of good for me. I have used five bottles of the Wine and one package of Chamberlain's Black-Draught. And since I have started to use it I will not be without it in the house. It helped my sister in Toledo, who did not menstruate as she ought. She was sixteen years of age and nothing else helped her. I was in a very bad state myself before I used your medicines, but I found relief in three days. And now I feel like a new woman and do all my housework and washing, which I could not do before I took Wine of Cardui. I would be very glad to write any poor woman and tell her how I suffered before I used Wine of Cardui.

A HISTORIC ESTATE

THE STORY OF FAMOUS OLD BATTLE ABBEY

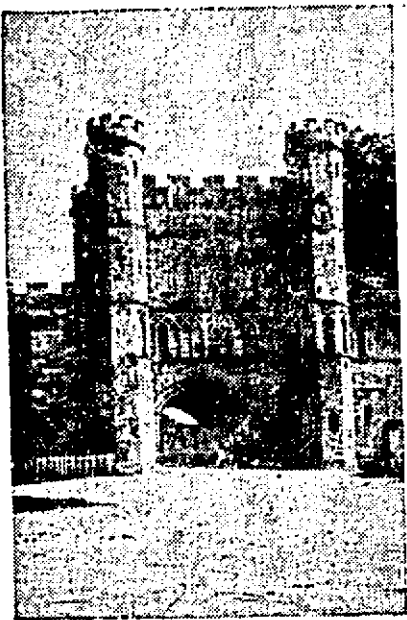

Erected by William the Conqueror to commemorate his victory—its founding in A. D. 1066 and its many vicissitudes.

"Going—going—gone!" cried the auctioneer at a recent sale in London, and then was sold a piece of property which, from its association with the battle of Hastings, is inseparably bound up with the story of the British nation. It was no less a place than Battle abbey, erected by William the Conqueror in 1066 to commemorate his victory.

Since the time of the first William it has had many owners and has now become the property of Sir Augustus Frederick Webster. The new owner is a descendant of Sir Thomas Webster, who bought the abbey from Viscount Montague in 1710 and whose family retained possession of it for 137 years.

Battle abbey is situated near Battle, Sussex. The town was formerly called Epton and received its present name from being the spot on which the Saxons, under Harold, were defeated by William, duke of Normandy, in 1066. The Norman duke, marching from Pevensey, a few miles away, where he had landed, found the Saxons entrenched behind a stone wall on ground which lies within the inclosure of the battle estate. So stubborn was the defense that the fate of the day was uncertain until William ordered his archers to shoot upward. An arrow pierced Harold's eye, and he fell, with a few of his earls faithful to the last. After the battle Duke William, known as the Conqueror, founded a magnificent abbey to commemorate his victory. The high altar in the church is said to have stood on the very spot where the body of the Saxon prince was found.

The abbey was intrusted to the Benedictine order and enjoyed for 500 years great celebrity. The church was consecrated on Feb. 11, 1064, during a visit of William Rufus to Hastings, and the occupants of the original abbey came from the Benedictine monastery of Marmoutier-les-Tours, on the banks of the Loire, founded by St. Martin as a refuge of privacy. In the middle of the sixteenth century the abbey, which had fallen into a deplorable condition, was granted by Henry VIII. to one Gilmartin Gilmer, who, having pulled down many of the buildings, sold the lands to the king's master of the horse, Sir Anthony Browne, "the same who had the courage to bring to his royal master the fatal message of death."

Sir Anthony, without losing any time, at once began building operations, and the present splendid old manor house was finished by his son, Viscount Montague. The next owner was Sir Thomas Webster, and the Webster family sold it to Lord Henry Vane, who ultimately became Duke of Cleveland. On the death of the Duchess of Cleveland, who for a long time had been its chateau, Battle abbey, the lordship of the manor and the several thousand acres of land passed into the possession of Captain Forester, who has just sold it at auction.

The recent sale of Battle abbey recalls an amusing anecdote of the late Duchess of Cleveland, who was one of the wittiest women of her generation. Her grace was present at a certain dinner party given by a well known American millionaire by way of housewarming his new palatial offices on the Thames embankment. The host was pointing out to his distinguished guests the various beauties of the establishment, enlarging especially on the splendor and cost of the grand staircases of marble and onyx. Becoming a little wearied by these encomiums, the duchess finally interrupted him with:

"Yes, it is very fine, extremely fine—so much finer than my staircases at Raby and Battle, but those, you know, have been sadly damaged by the mailed heels of crusaders tramping up and down them."

A legend of Battle abbey is that while Sir Anthony was celebrating his housewarming in the abbey's hall a monk appeared, strode up to the dais and pronounced a solemn malediction on the despoiler of the church—"By fire and water your line shall come to an end and perish out of the land." Some discern in subsequent events the entire fulfillment of the curse. The family mansion at Cowdray was completely destroyed by fire, the eighth Lord Montague was drowned in the Rhine in a rash attempt to shoot the falls of Laudenburg, and finally in 1815 the last two male descendants of the Montagues were drowned off Roanor.

FAMOUS ENGLISH ACTRESS.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell to Display Her Art in America.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell, the famous English actress, who with her London company is making her first American tour, is said to be a woman of extraordinary fascination. Enthusiastic, she loves to win applause and hates to be adversely criticised.

Mrs. Campbell is the widow of Patrick Campbell, an English army officer who was killed at Petersburg in

MRS. PATRICK CAMPBELL.

April, 1900. Her courtship and marriage were romantic. She fell in love with young Pat Campbell of Straunee, Ireland. Her father did not wish her to marry Campbell, and his parents also opposed the match. The lovers continued to meet, arranged an elopement and finally succeeded in getting married.

No actress in London theaters during the last decade has held more of public attention than Mrs. Patrick Campbell. She had been a provincial actress until in 1893 she appeared in the title role of "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray." Her success was immediate, her power and originality as an actress capturing the public, although the critics mercilessly attacked her.

It is significant of her individuality that Mrs. Campbell has never acquired what is known as a theatrical manner. Her acting is natural, sometimes to the point of ineffectiveness in parts which are not distinctly marked. Mrs. Campbell is an exquisite musician, and in Paris, where she was educated, she won a scholarship in music. Her voice is rich and ample, and she uses it with great skill.

The American tour of Mrs. Patrick Campbell will last for a limited number of weeks, brief engagements being allotted to the leading cities. Her repertoire includes "Magda," "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" and "The Notorious Mrs. Elphinstone," problem dramas; "Mariana," from the Spanish; "Beyond Human Power" and "Pellens and Mell-sande." These will give to Mrs. Campbell full opportunity to display her art.

Kodol

Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you Eat

Dyspeptics cannot regain health and strength by living upon half rations. They must eat plenty of good food and digest it. To enable them to do this they should use something that will help the stomach do its work. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is such a preparation. It digests what you eat and supplies the substances needed to build up the worn out digestive organs.

Prof. J. Ivison, of Lonaconing, Md., says: "For thirteen years I suffered agony from dyspepsia and neuralgia of the stomach. I tried almost everything and doctors drugged me nearly to death with morphine, but temporary relief was all I could obtain till I was advised to use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. The first dose gave me relief. I bought my first bottle in March, 1900, and I have not had a single pain since. It has completely cured me. I cannot endorse it too highly."

It can't help but do you good

Prepared by E. O. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The 51. bottle contains 2 1/2 times the 60c. size.

Cancer in Germany.

The German emperor is reported to have made an order for a commission of experts to be appointed with a view to the most radical and exhaustive investigation of cancer that can possibly be made. The deaths of his father, mother and an uncle from this cause has given the emperor a terrible interest in the scourge.

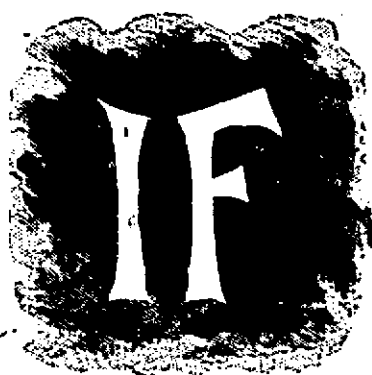

The Popular White Skirt.

While the black separate skirt is quite out of date, the white separate skirt is just the thing worn with waists of the faded pinks and blues, white and biscuit colors now in vogue. The point to be observed is the blending of the one into the other. In this way it is possible to have a variety of evening effects with out slight expense. Such a costume can be worn on all dress occasions where a very elaborate toilet is not necessary.

Largest Grape Region.

The largest grape growing region in the world is not the champagne district of France, nor in the sunny valley of southern California, for western New York owns the title by virtue of 50,000 acres now given over to grape culture.
